

The World's Series for 1924 is on. This closes the baseball season and football comes into its own. Football is a real American game and is typical of the aggressiveness and pep displayed by the youth of America everywhere and in every line of endeavor. The boys learn the rudiments of the game in the green fields of the country towns or in the vacant lots of the city as soon as they are able to play out of doors and the love for fair play instilled in them at this early stage usually continues throughout later life.

CHILD PERISHES BEFORE PARENTS

Three-Year-Old Atkinson Girl Burned to Death in Carriage Shed

Atkinson, Oct. 4.—Verna Toshach, aged 3, was burned to death while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Toshach, looked on helplessly yesterday, in a fire that destroyed a carriage shed and henhouse at the farm of her grandfather, Andrew Toshach, on Main street.

The little girl, with her brother, a year older, was playing about the shed, one of a group of large farm buildings on the William C. Noyes estate, about 200 yards from the Atkinson depot. It is believed that the children were playing with matches. The boy, when the fire started, escaped from the burning structure, but the girl was penned in by the flames, her body being found behind the door of the building.

Her brother gave the alarm and the parents and grandfather of the girl hastened to the scene. The entire building, a wooden structure 30 x 40 feet, and one story high, was soon in flames. Attempts of the parents to enter the building by breaking the windows were futile, as they were driven back by the flames.

ATLANTIC CORP. SUES BOARD FOR FOUR MILLION

Boston, Oct. 4.—Suit for $4,000,000 was begun in Federal Court yesterday against the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet corporation by the Atlantic Corporation of Portsmouth, N. H., a writ of attachment being served on U. S. Attorney Robert O. Harris.

The action is based on a contract, which the plaintiff corporation alleges was made by the Emergency Fleet corporation for the building of ships in 1917 and 1919.

CHARGES AGAINST SEABROOK OFFICIAL

Taxpayers Claim Mismanagement on Part of Chairman E. T. Adams

Seabrook, Oct. 4.—About fifty taxpayers of the town of Seabrook last summer became dissatisfied with the management of the town's affairs and employed Attorney Samuel W. Emery of Portsmouth to examine vouchers and charges for the year 1923 and as a result of the examination a bill in equity has been filed which claims that Elihu T. Adams, chairman of the board of selectmen and assessors, has wrongfully received $891 and the bill asks that this be paid back to the town. The case will be tried at the October term of Superior court.

The writ claims that at the annual town meeting held in March, 1923, the town appropriated the sum of $250 for the annual salary of Mr. Adams in full of all services as chairman of the board; and that during the year Mr. Adams illegally collected from the town $88 for services as chairman of the board in excess of his salary, $138 for the use of his automobile in the performance of his duties, and $223 on vouchers which it is alleged were illegal as they should have been approved by the other two members of the board but bore the approval of Mr. Adams and only one other of the selectmen; that he collected $394 on vouchers illegally drawn as they did not set forth the purpose for which they were drawn.

President Coolidge Throws Out First Ball as Senators and Giants Clash in Baseball Classic

(By Associated Press)

Griffith Stadium, Washington, Oct. 4.—A World's Series in the National Capitol—A dream of baseball fandom—came through this afternoon when the Washington Senators, newly crowned champions of the American League, clashed with the New York Giants, four time successive winners in the National League, in the first game of the annual October baseball classic. With President Coolidge throwing out the ball and some 35,000 spectators cheering the home folks all Washington seemed tilted over on its official ear. Even the shadow of the Giant's bribery scandal was all but forgotten when Walter Johnson swung into action on the hurling hill. The day was ideal for the game, and insistent sun overcame a stubborn morning fog and when the first Washington player popped his head out of the dugout an Indian summer sun was glancing brightly on the green playing field. John McGraw, manager of the Giants, kept his pitching selection for the day under cover and his players figured it would be either McQuillan or Nehf. With every reserve seat sold the bulk of the crowd came slowly to the ball yard. The unreserved stand was thrown open at 9 o'clock and within 20 minutes was jammed to capacity and the gates closed. The crowd got its first real kick of the day when the buffoon, Nick Altrock, and Al Schacht, led the band across the playing field and did their latest comedy turns. Except for Freddy Lindstrom, 18-year-old schoolboy playing his first season in the majors in place of Heinie Groh, who has a wrenched knee, both teams will present their full strength. The probable lineups:

Washington—McNeally cf, Harris 2b, Rice rf, Garsolin lf, Judge 1b, Bluege 3b, Peckinpaugh ss, Ruel c, Johnson p.

New York—Lindstrom 3b, Frisch 2b, Young rf, Kelly cf, Terry 1b, Wilson lf, Jackson ss, Cowdy c, McQuillan p. Umpires—Connolly at the plate, Klem at first base, Dineen at second base, Quisley at third base.

Washington, Oct. 4.—A heavy fog which still hung over the city at 3 o'clock this morning promised cloudy skies, perfect "Walter Johnson weather" when the Senators and New York Giants met today for the opening game here of their World's Series clash.

UNCOVER BIG LIQUOR PLOT

(By Associated Press)
New York, Oct. 4.—Prohibition officials claim to have uncovered a gigantic Anglo-American rum running conspiracy with ten million dollars involved when they towed into the harbor today the twin screw British steamer Frederick B. with its crew of 28 men and two women under armed guard, and with a $500,000 liquor cargo aboard. Five special government agents under leadership of William A. Walker of Washington, general field superintendent of the dry forces, made the capture after they had, according to Mr. Walker, dickered for the purchase of 25,000 cases of whiskey after paying $100,000 in currency and checks for the contraband.

HOLD FARMER AND STEAL POTATOES

Ashland, Oct. 4.—Unless the police interfere, a band of gypsies will have many feasts of potatoes at the expense of Daniel McMurphy, prominent farmer of this town.

While Mr. McMurphy was digging potatoes in a field near the Bridge-water station yesterday afternoon, a group of gypsies traveling in a touring car and covered truck, stopped and swarmed onto the field. Two of the number held Mr. McMurphy while the rest of the group grabbed several bags filled with potatoes, and loaded them onto the truck.

As soon as the invaders had secured all the potatoes they wanted, Mr. McMurphy was released and the group sped off in their machines.

The 100 per cent church today is a "going concern." It is both a business and a divine institution; human because it is made up of men of human frailties and divine because Jesus Christ is at the head. It is the only institution in the world today which can gather so many people together every seven days. Let the church cease to be operative in Portsmouth, Tuesday and Wednesday—Rockingham Christian conference at Rye Christian church. All members are expected to be present at the conference. If at all possible and a cordial invitation is extended to all friends who may desire to attend. Two full day sessions.

The "one hundred per cent church" is the serving church. It has the respect of the community, it pays its debts, it stands for clean living, it is a brotherhood and if "one member suffers all the other members suffer with it." It dares to undertake new things and sometimes parts company with the past for it is a growing church.

The religion for today is the religion of yesterday. It is both reasonable and practical, manly and brotherly, personal and social, sympathetic and militant. And the great purpose of the church today is to make Christ known as a friend, helper, master and saviour.

Large numbers of our citizens are not regular attendants at church, and yet they would not want to remain citizens of Portsmouth if the churches of our city should cease to exist. Hear the words of Theodore Roosevelt, the most dynamic American of the past generation:

1. "In this actual world, a community where men have abandoned and scoffed at or ignored their religious needs, is a community on the rapid down grade."

2. "Church work and church attendance mean the cultivation of the habit of feeling some responsibility for others."

3. Yes, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees, or by a running brook or in a man's own house just as well as in church. But I also know as a matter of fact that the average man does not thus worship.

4. "I advocate a man's joining in church work for the sake of showing his faith by his work."

with your GAS man

The other day the gas, electric, and street car executives in a certain State held a business-meeting. Sitting in the meeting with them were representatives of the public—men and women customers—who were invited to attend.

At the end of the meeting one man rose to his feet and said to the public utility executives: "You men are certainly doing your part. I think that we—your customers—ought to meet you half-way, for ultimately we will benefit the most." Others said the some thing and volunteered friendly cooperation.

That meeting added a new chapter to the history of public relations. There is nothing secret about the gas business or any public utility business. People are beginning to understand this fact and the result is better service for everybody.

EXETER HIGH HERE TODAY

The high school is all set for its game with Exeter high this afternoon and while Coach Rice expects the hardest game so far this season he thinks that his team should come through in good shape.

During the past week he has been giving the back field a lot of time and Friday afternoon they were drilled in both offense and defense work. The back field, starting today's game, was Noel full back, Cavarette and Fullam halves, and McCarthy quarter. Kivan will start at center, Hatch and Wiggins probably at guards, Robinson and Ferrin tackles, Voudy and Flanagan ends or possibly Clark. Hett will probably get into the game at guard as he has been showing exceptional strength and now has had a good work out.

The team this afternoon is, for the first time, playing within enclosed grounds for the canvas walls are in place. The last of the four poles were set this forenoon and Davis Brothers supervised the hanging of the canvas, which extends all around the playing field with two entrances. It is not as good as a fence, but it will answer in every way and there will be police officers enough to see that there is no rushing the fence.

WOMEN TO HOLD LAST GOLF MEET NEXT MONDAY

The last meeting of the Women's Golf Association will be held on Monday at the Manchester Country Club and at that time the annual election of officers will take place and the prizes for the season will be awarded.

The women's association has had a very successful year and the plan of holding semi monthly meetings at the different clubs of the state, has done a great deal for women's golf in the state. It has also given the women a good knowledge of the golf courses in the state, and it has been socially successful as well although that has always been the secondary consideration.

Mrs. J. F. Sheppard, the retiring president has been responsible for the great growth and success of the women's association, for she has planned many of the fine features. Mrs. P. C. Lockwood will probably be the next president, and will carry on the work equally as well.

The association now has ten clubs in the state belonging and there are about 46 odd women of the state who have taken part in three or more of the meetings during this season and next year the field will be much larger.

CHILDREN CONVEYED TO SCHOOL IN BUTCHER CART

Manchester, Oct. 4—That the children are conveyed to school in an old butcher cart behind a horse that "just pokes along" is one of the grievances of a group of mothers living in the Amoskeag Village section of Manchester. Formerly their children went to the Amoskeag school but this year they have been transferred to the Webster school and protests have resulted.

Built to a Standard—

Converse Basketball Shoes have a reputation to maintain. For years they have been selected as standard equipment for nearly all of the country's leading teams, and to be worthy of that choice, no change has ever been made in their construction except in the direction of improvement.

And no improvement has ever been adopted until it has been thoroughly tested in actual play or until it has received the approval of prominent coaches.

This year Converse Basketball footwear will carry the new "Peg-Top" construction which has been found by test to eliminate all possibility of cutting, chafing or discomfort at the Achilles tendon by the edge of the upper. Look for this feature on this year's Converse shoes.

No Vibration At Any Engine Speed

Willys-Knight with Lanchester Balancer ushers in a new day of enjoyable motoring.

The Willys-Knight is a revelation to motorists. It gives them a new conception of riding ease, a velvet smoothness of operation that surprises and delights.

Much was expected of the car. The ten years it has been in production have been years of progressive leadership. Willys-Knight conquered noise with its quiet sleeve-valve engine,—conquered engine deterioration, conquered carbon and valve trouble, conquered the problems of lubrication, clutch, steering and every detail of mechanical construction. It seemed to approach the pinnacle of possibility.

But Willys-Knight still advances. This year it tops its record with another triumph—it solves the universal problem of engine vibration. The Lanchester Balancer, which eliminates vibration, introduces car owners to a new comfort and pleasure in driving.

The Willys-Knight with Lanchester Balancer awaits your inspection.

Preserving Our Food Supply

Destruction of one of America's foremost natural sources of food—the fish—is lamented by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who addressing the United States Fisheries association, spoke to the point as follows:

"Blindly, without regard to the stability of the industry, in our generation, without sense of responsibility to future generations, we are recklessly destroying our littoral fisheries—that is, the species of sea food in our bays and in the waters nearest the coast.

"A constantly depleted species will ultimately reach a point of exhaustion from which there is no recovery. We must not only halt forms of destruction but we must start rehabilitation."

The past few years have seen remarkable strides made in fish conservation, for the ancient saying, "as common as the fish in the sea," has been found to have its limits. Fish of the sea are numerous, but the supply is not inexhaustible. It can be depleted as species of land animals have been reduced by wanton destruction. As the secretary of commerce points out, our growing population before long will further increase the vital question of food supply, and without the conservation of every resource at our hand future generations may be confronted with an insurmountable problem.

The Fugitive Hero

Heroism has its drawbacks. This conclusion is driven home to the daring motorist in Emporia, Kan., who won quick fame by snatching a child from in front of a rapidly moving train by whizzing past in a motor car, standing on the running board, steering with one hand and lifting the child with the other.

The public, while still throbbing with admiration for that daring feat, was shocked by learning that the hero had been arrested as a fugitive from justice. He was wanted, it appears, on charges of wife-desertion, fraud and various other infractions of the law. And the hero, perhaps, was shocked even more than the public. If he had not drawn attention to himself by his spectacular heroism, he might still be at liberty.

He may not lose much, though. Any jury might decide that such a man deserves his liberty and is of more use outside of a jail than inside.

It may be that his real trouble comes from not finding the right job. He evidently needs a job with "pep" in it. It looks like another case for psychologists. What expert will explain why a man who deserts his own family will risk his life to save a strange child?

The Checker Parlor

In a city boasting a Chess and Checker Club, the club has branched out and given public range to its activities. It has opened a "chess and checker parlor" run on the principle of a billiard room or a bowling alley. That is, except for the charges.

Anyone may avail himself of the privileges of the institution at a cost of 10 cents a day. That is surely moderate enough, and also in keeping with the character of the games played. It should prove especially encouraging to chess players. The essence of both chess and checkers is deliberateness, and few patrons will feel obliged to hurry through a game when they can have the necessary equipment and comfortable quarters all day or all night for the price of a cigar.

This is a fine pioneer enterprise. Such institutions and such rates are to be encouraged in an age given to needless hurry and lavish expenditure. General patronage of chess and checker parlors would serve not only to kill much time, among persons murderously inclined in that regard, but would promote peace of mind and bank savings.

YORK

York, Oct. 4.—W. A. Rowell, service engineer of the Portland association, gave an illustrated lecture at the high school on Friday morning using moving pictures showing the origin, manufacture and uses of Portland cement which he described as one of the most useful and versatile building materials the world has ever known, because it is not consumed by its use; it is wealth creative and one that grows stronger with age when properly mixed with sand and pebbles.

The pictures were spectacular and gave quick visual instruction to all in the auditorium where he described the making of cement as tearing down a mountain and putting it through a sieve having 40,000 holes per square inch and he stressed the value of a concrete course in manual training to give the fundamentals of modern fire proof construction in a practical way.

The essentials of good concrete was discussed and it was shown that excess water weakens concrete, that sloppy mixtures sacrifice strength, that time of mixing and not speed insure strength and quality with proper grading of sand and stone. The lecture throughout was informative of modern methods and arrangements are made for another lecture next month.

Miss Margaret Wilson, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Portsmouth hospital, is much improved.

DELIGHTED AUDIENCE

Mrs. Elizabeth Dodge Derby, sister of Mrs. E. M. Fisher of this city, and well known here where she has frequently visited, delighted an appreciative audience in City Hall, Newburyport, Mass., on Tuesday evening.

The beauty of her singing and her charming personality pleased her hearers. Encores were frequent as Mrs. Derby was particularly gracious in responding. Her opening number was Handel's "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," followed by other classics which called for resources of vocal power of expression and technique of high order, which were fully supplied by the singer. Then there were three groups of selections of a diversified nature which displayed the splendid powers of the singer to perfection. Following the concert Mrs. Derby received many congratulations from members of the audience, which included a number from this city.

HAS AGREEMENT SIGNED BY JONES

Crowley Suit Will Come to Trial in Suffolk Court in Boston Shortly

Boston, Mass., Oct. 4.—Ten thousand dollars for keeping sober!

Such is the basis of a suit entered in the Suffolk court.

Michael Crowley, a clerk employed at the Boston & Maine railroad freight station in Boston, formerly of Portsmouth, alleges that sum is due him as the result of a promise by his old-time friend, the late Frank Jones, millionaire brewer of Portsmouth.

The promise, he says forth in his suit against the trustees of the estate, was that he should receive $10,000 if he remained sober for a period of 10 years.

A declaration in the case was filed Friday in which the specific agreements are included.

The case, which it is expected will come to trial in a short time, promises not only to add fresh sensations to those which so prolifically cropped up at the death of the famous brewer magnate, but is likely to prove without precedent in the annals of court cases.

The amended declaration includes the following letters:

"Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 15, 1893.

"I promise to pay Michael Crowley the sum of ten thousand dollars

($10,000) if he abstains from drinking any liquor for the next ten years, my estate is bound to pay the same. If I pass away during that time the men or trustees will pay him.

(Signed) "FRANK JONES."

Mr. Crowley, employed in the Warren bridge freight office of the Boston & Maine, was in his younger days a constant companion of the then celebrated Frank Jones. There arose a strong attachment between the pair.

Michael was at times given to taking a "ree drapple."

At one time Mr. Jones discussed a plan for adopting Michael.

He offered to put up a sum of money to be paid if Crowley would remain sober for a stipulated period of time. The bids started at $1000 and a year's abstinence. Then they went up to $2000 for two years, and so on until one day Mr. Jones offered $10,000 if Michael would refrain for a period of 10 years.

"Will you put that in writing," asked Michael, suddenly, and much to the surprise of Mr. Jones. The latter declared that he would. Mr. Crowley declares the agreement was faithfully kept.

The brewer died previous to the termination of the decade, but Crowley maintains that it would have been the intent of Mr. Jones to make good had he lived to the date of the termination of the agreement and been assured that it had been kept to the letter.

Crowley asserts that he kept the agreement.

Trustees of the estate include Parker Whittemore, John Spring and Sherburn M. Merrill. Counsel for Crowley is William F. MacKernan of Barrister's hall.

Crowley is a past commander of the Sons of Veterans, former president of the Veteran Railroad Men's association and a 32d degree Mason. He was president of the junior class at Boston University law school in 1893.

"I'm on the water wagon now and have been for 31 years," declared Colonel Crowley yesterday. "But going 10 years in your prime without a drink, as I did to please my friends and benefactor, Frank Jones, is worth $10,000 of any man's money—and all the interest you can get. Several years ago I figured out that my bill came to $53,000 with 6 per cent compound interest and now my just claim against Mr. Jones' estate is about $80,000.

"I know he would have paid it if he had lived and gladly, but Mr. Jones died just before the 10 years were up. I have been trying to collect ever since and the trustees kept putting me off. Now I'm tired and disgusted with waiting and I've told my lawyer to go to court and collect it."

Crowley says he was born in Portsmouth between 60 and 64 years ago, but that he can't remember just when. He was about 30 years younger than Frank Jones.

"I knew Mr. Jones when I was a boy," he said, "just getting acquainted with him as boys will, and he seemed to like me. He wanted me to come to work for him and I did. He used me for all kinds of confidential things. We were often off on good times together and traveled all over the country. We drank together and went to all sorts of places. Mr. Jones trusted me absolutely and I always kept his secrets. "Mr. Jones wanted to adopt me and leave me his fortune, but he said I'd have to stop drinking first. He offered me $100 to stay sober and I lasted about six months. Then he offered me $2000 if I'd stay on the water wagon two years and I jumped off before the time was up.

"Finally he said he'd give me $10,000 to quit drinking for 10 years and I told him to put it in writing. He did. "When the 10 years were up I went to see Mrs. Jones and she gave me this:"

Colonel Crowley showed another aged document, reading:

"Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 18, 1893

"The promise of my husband to Michael Crowley, as provided, that the sum of $10,000, with interest, will be made good, my estate is bound in honor, my husband and myself, to pay the same. The above is a promise I make."

"MARTHA F. JONES."

Crowley has always been a conspicuous figure at the meetings of Boston & Maine stockholders, of which he is one, and until recent years was credited with voting by proxy the Jones stock. Frank Jones was for a time the president of the Boston & Maine and had large financial interests in the railroad.

What Food Authorities Have To Say About Bread

Juanita Darrah Rerel, D. Sc., University of Illinois Graduate, Holder of Many College Degrees, Expert on Dietetics and Home Economics, Says This Concerning Bread:

"Authorities estimate that the American diet is chiefly Bread, Potatoes and Muscle Cuts of meat. Of the three articles, Bread may be selected as the backbone of the diet. It is universally used, and about the cheapest source of energy. Real yeast Bread offers the only food flavor of which the appetite never tires. It is more economical to buy than to bake Bread, if one takes into account the materials, the gas for baking, and the amount of time expended. Returns (in nutrition) are larger than from meat or nuts."

And, the Best, The Most Nutritious, Most Economical, and Only Bread With the Real Home-Made Flavor is

GOOD PITCHING. WON THE SERIES

New York, Oct. 4.—Superior pitching and batting enabled the New York Yankees to turn back their metropolitan rivals, the Giants, in their third successive world's series battle last season. After failing dramatically the previous two years, Miller Huggins' all-star twirling corps and formidable attack, centered around Babe Ruth, swept to a sensational victory, while McGraw's machine crumbled.

The Giants held their own for the first four games, due to the sensational home run hitting of the veteran Casey Stengel whose circuit clouts were the deciding factors in two games. But the Yankees turned the series into a rout in the last two games, the climax coming in the sixth game, when, after a last gallant stand, Art Nehf, southpaw star of the Giants, collapsed and the National League surrendered their crown.

Herb Pennock, portside ace of the Yankees, was the pitching star, with two victories to his credit. Joe Bush and Bob Shawkey were credited with the others for the Yankees while Ryan and Nehf gained the Giant triumphs. The best twirling performance was that of Sam Jones, who held the Giants to four hits in the third game but lost because one of these was a homer by Stengel, the only score of the game, while the Yankees were unable to make effective use of their six blows off Nehf.

The Yankees wide margin at the bat was shown by their team hitting mark of .293 as compared with .231 for the Giants.

NEW SORORITY HOUSE AT DURHAM

Durham, Oct. 4.—The Alpha Xi Delta house, the first sorority house to be built at the New Hampshire University, is fast nearing completion and it is hoped that it will be ready for occupancy about the middle of November. Work on the house, which is situated at the corner of Faculty row and Garrison avenue, was begun last May.

The new building is a three-story brick house built on the general colonial plan. Leading from the large living room there is a sun porch and terrace facing to the south and overlooking the campus. The entrance is on Faculty row. On the right of the large reception hall are the dining room and matron's suite. A winding stairway leads to the second floor which is given over entirely to individual studies. Sleeping quarters are provided on the third floor. In the basement are the chapter rooms, laundry, heating plant and store room.

ALUMNI WILL PLAY MARINES ON NAVY DAY

The high school alumni has signed up to play the marines on Navy Day at the navy yard and at that time will present a team that will give the marines a game worth while. It will include practically the same old team that opened the season with the high school and as they have one or two games between that date they should be in better condition.

The plans for the Navy Day celebration call for a football game in the afternoon.

Cooked food, home made candy, aprons, "white elephants," flowers and fancy articles on commission were offered for sale, and all tables were well patronized, netting a goodly sum for the treasury of this organization.

Now is the time to visit the mountains as they are at their best with plenty of water in the brooks and the foliage turning. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Woods and family and party made a trip to Mt. Washington Sunday. Eleanor, 17, Dorothy, 13, and Eldridge, 11 years, climbed Mr. Washington via Crystal Cascade and Tuckerman's Ravine in three and one-half hours, returning by the carriage road. They have had several inches of snow on the top but it is all gone except on the northern slope.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Christian church held its monthly business meeting in the vestry of the church Thursday evening. At the business session the committee on the food sale reported receipts of $14.30. It was voted to have a harvest supper Oct. 23. During the social hour which followed the entertainment consisted of a "mulling party" which was much enjoyed by all. Refreshments of nut gelatine with whipped cream and cake were served.

At the last meeting of Kittery Grange on Wednesday evening Rally night was observed and many grangers were present who had not been present lately. A fine supper was served at 6 o'clock in the vestry of the Second Christian church in charge of Mrs. Stillman Bowden, Mrs. John Wetherbee and Mrs. Edward Chase and their assistants. The meeting was called at 7:30 o'clock at the close of which the gentlemen of the order gave as their entertainment as fine a minstrel show as was ever put on and received much applause. The jokes were new and catchy and the local personal jokes were funny and taken in good spirit by those "attacked." Visitors were present from Eliot and Portsmouth granges. On Oct. 15 the ladies will give the program and the

An interesting and instructive illustrated lecture was delivered at Traip Academy Friday noon by Service Engineer W. A. Rowell of the Portland Cement association on the subject of "The Origin, Manufacture and Uses of Portland Cement." Useful and practical information was given the students in the basic principles of manipulating concrete. The pictures were highly entertaining and instructive and the cement industry was described by the engineer as a foster father to others because it consumes huge quantities of explosives and those who make dynamite prosper; it burns mountains of rock in coal flame and the mines flourish; it uses millions of cotton sacks each year in marketing cement and the textile people rejoice. The Pantheon of Rome, built in part of concrete 1500 centuries ago, he said, was stronger than the day it was made and shows conclusively the value of concrete, which he said was man-made stone that can be made by most anyone on account of its simplicity of use and the availability of local sand and stone. The lecture said would have been impossible but for the cement concrete piers which could never have been constructed of block or dimension stone in such a precipitous tidal runoff. The lecture teemed throughout with modern construction portrayal.

The local High School orchestra, which is considered one of the best of its kind in the state, bids fair to hold up its standard again this year. Practice has already begun under the direction of Ernest P. Billbruck, music supervisor of the public schools. It will be larger than last year as the trombone section is augmented by two trombones and with the addition of two flutes the orchestra should have more scope in its work. A baritone player is expected to report right away and the saxophone section is larger this year, while an extra cornet player has reported. Both the High School and the Junior High School orchestras have started rehearsals and good work is expected of them the coming year. The Junior High School orchestra has at present twenty members. It plays every Tuesday afternoon after school for rehearsals and for the Junior High School Assembly period on Fridays. Renato Fracassi is concert master again this year.

AIRPLANES TO BE FEATURE OF FALL OPENING

Friday, October 10, will be a big day in Portsmouth. The annual fall opening of the stores of this city will be held on that day. The merchants of Portsmouth are planning some special features that are sure to attract attention. A big airplane demonstration in the afternoon will undoubtedly attract a large number of visitors.

A feature of special interest to the people of Portsmouth and vicinity will be the flying of an airplane over this city between 2 and 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 9th. As the airplane passes over the town printed invitations will be thrown from the machine inviting citizens of this place to the opening of Portsmouth stores which takes place the following day. Among the invitations thrown from the airplane as it passed over this city will be distributed coupons worth $1. in merchandise if presented by an adult, in any of the stores listed on the coupon. These coupons must be turned in on the official fall opening day of the Portsmouth stores, which day is Friday, Oct. 10. Finders of these lucky coupons will also find a cordial welcome "in the stores." If weather does not permit flying of the airplane on Thursday the flying will be done early Friday morning.

When the roar of the airplane engine is heard next Thursday afternoon it will be the signal for the people of this city to search the highways and byways for the "Message from Mars" containing the one dollar coupons.

Portsmouth merchants have been preparing for this big mercantile event for some time past and their stores are stocked as never before. The merchants there are determined to make the annual fall opening this year the most successful ever held.
